

The Legal Role of the French Licensed Surveyor

François Mazuyer, France

Key Words: Cadastre, Legislation, Professional practice, Standards, public private partnership

SUMMARY

The French law has entrusted the private licensed surveyor with a public mission, i.e. to identify the boundaries between properties. This public mission requests both technical and legal training and skills. This approach is also in force in a number of European countries. The presentation will describe this situation, its prerequisites, and the opportunities it provides to surveyors.
